

Picture This

Picture that you are walking through a dark, empty house, late at night. There are mice...and weird noises. You can't see anything around you. Would you be scared? Now let's imagine that your dad is walking with you, holding your hand, with a flashlight. Would you feel different? It's the same when you go through a rough time—you're not alone because Jesus is with you and His Word will always guide you.
