

SOMETIMES

Pickle Juice

Get two small cups with lids and put pickle juice and a straw in each. Choose a volunteer and tell them that you are talking about choices and that you are going to give them a very easy choice—this cup or that cup. Give them the cup of their choice and tell them to drink it as fast as they can. Ready...set...go! After they are finished, and they don't have to drink it all, ask them what was inside. After they tell you that it was pickle juice, hand them the other cup and say, "Here, you probably need to wash it down with this." Of course, you have just handed them another cup of pickle juice and it usually doesn't take long for them to announce it to everybody.

Spiritual Application: No matter which choice you made, you were still going to get the same thing—something you didn't want. In life, the world is the same way. No matter which one of the world's choices you make, it will never give you what you really want in life because what you really want in life is only found in one place, Jesus Christ.

