

MARSHMALLOW MADNESS

Push Away

Divide your students into two teams. Using a piece of tape, create a boundary between the two teams. Instruct your students to sit down on their side of the line facing those on the opposite team, leaving only a couple of feet between the two teams. Pour out several bags of marshmallows between them. When you say go, they will try to push (not throw) the marshmallows onto the other team's side. At the end of one minute, whichever side has the least marshmallows is the winning team.

Spiritual Application: What are things that God wants us to keep away from? Read 2 Timothy 2:22 or Colossians 3:8-10. Keep away from sin.
