

MARSHMALLOW MADNESS

Quick Pass

Form teams of the same size. Have them stand in a straight line, facing you. Give the first person in each line one large marshmallow. When you say go the first person will pass the marshmallow between his legs and hand it to the next person in line, who will continue passing it in the same manner. When the marshmallow reaches the last person in line, this person will then pass it forward in the same way. Other options include passing it over the head, under the left arm, or under the right arm or a combination of any of the above.

Spiritual Application: To win in the game you had to work together as a team. In life God wants us to help each other also. See Galatians 6:2 or the story of Aaran and Hur helping to hold up Moses arms in Exodus 17:8-13.
