The Tower of Babel

Choose six volunteers to compete on two opposing teams. Have two students stand on one side of the room with both hands held together out over a piece of posterboard or some other kind of floor covering. On the other side of the room, have their other two teammates stand in a line facing them, the front person with a can of shaving cream. When you say go, the first person in line will run down to the student with his hands held out and will for 10 seconds begin building a tower of shaving cream in his hands. After 5 seconds he will run back to his team and tag the next student who will continue building the tower. Continue the competition until time is up or until the students run out of shaving cream. You might even want to use more than one can for each team. Be creative and have fun.

Spiritual Application: Can you imagine a people who decide they don't need God? Share with them the story of the Tower of Babel from Genesis 11.
